

LANDON AND KNOX REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

$30,000 SOUGHT FROM CO. FUND TO BUILD SPUR

Road Matters Keep Co. Supervisors in a Stormy Session

The road and bridge committee precipitated a controversy in yesterday afternoon's session of the board of supervisors which promises to carry on for a few weeks until the board can meet in a special session to hear the opinion of the attorney general's office on a proposal that $30,000 be taken from the county's motor fuel tax refund and used in the construction of the remainder of the Brooklyn spur, routing the spur north to connect with state route 71 when completed. The first action on the resolution came when Supervisor Knetsch of Wyoming moved the tabling of the action and Supervisor John Archer of Brooklyn township seconded the motion. With a motion before the board, Supervisor Knetsch voiced his opinion of the entire action, and said:

Knetsch Questions Move.
"The road and bridge committee, in my opinion, has no right to rescind a previous action in re-routing this road, while one section has been improved and is in readiness to receive the improvement. Why not complete the original route before taking action on another road. I have secured legal advice on this matter and would suggest that the road and bridge committee not act too hastily, but first investigate the legality of the proposed action before proceeding."

State's Attorney Edward A. Jones was asked for his opinion and stated that he believed that a serious doubt existed as to legality of the committee's rescinding action. He advised the securing of an opinion from the attorney general's office.

While Supervisor Knetsch of Wyoming led the fight against the re-routing of the spur, Supervisor L. L. Gehart of Viola township, member of the road and bridge committee, defended the resolution. The latter informed the board that he had secured an opinion from the Dixon state department of highways offices only yesterday that the action was legal. In reply to this argument, Supervisor Knetsch, one of the veterans of the road, replied:

"I can cite you an instance in this county where the state department approved a project which called for the construction of bridges, where later it was found that the action was illegal and today the bridges are standing out in the middle of a field."

Supervisor Mau of Hamilton, another member of the road and bridge committee, had asked the question as to whether or not Supervisor Knetsch considered the state highway department as being a position to decide the legality of the road and bridge committee's action just before the Wyoming representative cited the above instance.

A long debate followed after which Supervisor Knetsch withdrew his motion to table the resolution and supplemented it with a motion to defer action until the next meeting of the board, which met with the unanimous approval of the board.

For the moment the business to come before the board proceeded without interruption until another resolution from the road and bridge committee was presented, seeking an appropriation of $10,000 from the motor fuel tax refund to provide for the construction of the Nelson spur to complete the county's expensive WPA program. Supervisor John Emmitt was on his feet at once, but not soon enough to open discussion when Assistant Supervisor Ed Stanley of Dixon moved that the resolution be tabled. His motion drew the immediate second of Supervisor J. E. Mau of Hamilton both being members of the committee which had presented the action to the board. Supervisor Burhenn of Bradford called for a roll call vote and again a lengthy discussion was entered into, and no final action was taken.

General Fund Depleted.
The startling information that Lee county's fund to be used for general purposes and known as the general fund, is depleted, was made known to the board by Assistant Supervisor Leon Garrison, chairman of the finance committee. The revelation came when the purchasing committee recommended

Running Mate

COL. FRANK KNOX

Chicago publisher and Illinois' "favorite son" for the Republican presidential nomination, who was this morning unanimously nominated for the vice-presidency, following his withdrawal from the race for the higher position last evening and his whole-hearted support of Gov. Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, the convention's unanimous nominee to head the Republican ticket next November.

KNOX, VETERAN OF TWO WARS, IS ACTIVE FIGHTER

Saw Action in Spanish-American and World Wars; Age is 62

Chicago, June 12.—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago Daily News publisher, selected today as Republican vice presidential nominee, is a former Rough Rider devoted, like Theodore Roosevelt, the idol of his youth, to "the strenuous life."

Knox has been a soldier, a businessman, a political leader and a crusading editor. He went to Cuba in the Spanish American war with a regiment famous for reckless daring. In the World War, his chosen job was commanding an ammunition train, dealing with mules and explosives.

His first political success was similarly strenuous, when as a young editor in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., he "put over" the campaign of Chase Osborn for governor of Michigan.

Knox then made his bow into national politics in one of its most turbulent scenes. He was one of "Teddy" Roosevelt's right-hand men in the stormy "Bull Moose" campaign of 1912.

Since August 12, 1931, Col. Knox has been editor and publisher of the News. He came to Chicago from Manchester, N. H., where he is the coproprietor of two papers, the "Leader" and "Union."

Looks Belie Age
Knox is 62, but his appearance and manner belie his age. A stocky, powerfully built man slightly over medium height, he has a ruddy face and an air of brimming good health. His hair is sandy and was red in his youth.

He was a halfback at Alma College, Mich., and still puts himself through the exercises he used to lead as the school's physical training director.

When he was put forward as a presidential candidate his followers hailed him as a "typical successful business man" who had made his way to great success in the newspaper business from a poor boy's start, and also as a "man of action" and a fighter.

The Colonel's baptismal name is William Franklin Knox. He shortened it to "Frank" and used that form exclusively.

Native of Boston
He was born in Boston January 1, 1874, of Scotch-English stock. His father ran a market. The family, in modest circumstances, was hit hard in the depression of '74 and moved to Grand Rapids, Mich.

There Knox took his first job, at the age of 11. It was carrying papers, the "Democrat" before breakfast, and the "Eagle" after school. The $2.25 a week thus earned went into the thin family purse.

His newspaper career began in Grand Rapids. Coming back from the Spanish-American war he broke in as a reporter on the "Herald." Sen. Arthur Vandenberg was on the same newspaper staff. After making a success of his lit-

REPUBLICANS PONDER LANDON MESSAGE

Telegram to Cleveland Convention was Sensational

Cleveland, June 12.—(AP)—Republicans wondered somewhat fearfully today whether the gold plank their presidential candidate added to the platform they had so carefully built to hold Senator Borah might give trouble in the political storms ahead.

Delegates to the Republican national convention were thrilled by the drama of the surprise telegram in which Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas boldly used the word "gold," so deftly avoided by their platform makers.

But at the same time they figuratively watched the lonely Idaho Senator returning to Washington. They recalled the long days and nights of skulking negotiating to write a platform upon which he might support their newly chosen candidate. When Borah left here last night he was "satisfied" with the three planks—on foreign affairs, monopolies, and currency—for which he had fought tooth-and-nail through four wearying days and nights, and Landon supporters were optimistic that they had pacified the Idahoan.

Stand Draws Praise
Later the delegates read that Borah appeared stunned when informed at Akron of Landon's telegram to the convention.

And when they remembered that Borah had warned the convention only a few days ago that return to the gold standard would be the worst possible thing that could happen to agriculture, they wondered again whether they could count upon the Idaho orator's powerful voice in the days to come.

On the other hand, Landon's gold stand drew quick praise from former President Hoover, Col. Frank Knox who had competed with Landon for the nomination, and others.

The other two personal planks added by Landon to the party platform in his unexpected telegram gave some Republicans concern, but drew cheers from others. The possible political effects were not so clearly visible.

These other planks were pledges to support a constitutional amendment, if necessary, to permit minimum wage legislation by states, and to place within the merit system every job in the administrative service below the "little cabinet."

Had Been Rejected
All three of these Landon planks had been turned down by the resolutions committee or its subcommittee several times in an effort to write a platform that would unite all party factions.

Gold was left out of the monetary plank chiefly because of Borah's opposition. The constitutional amendment plank was omitted partly because some felt it would weaken the first and leading plank in the platform—calling for the maintenance of constitutional government.

While there was a little public discussion of the reasons for rejection of the civil service amendment, patronage has long been recognized as a potent weapon in political campaigns.

Landon's telegram was read to the convention by John Hamilton, his campaign manager, in the speech nominating the Kansas gov-

Lowden for Ticket and GOP Platform

Oregon, Ill., June 12.—(AP)—Informed of the nomination of Col. Frank Knox of Chicago as the Republican party's candidate for vice president, Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, made the following comment:

"The convention has named an excellent ticket. While I have not had an opportunity to study the platform carefully, my first impressions are altogether favorable. I know there is nothing in it which will prevent me from wholeheartedly supporting the ticket."

Full support of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, the presidential nominee, was promised by Lowden.

He telegraphed this message to the governor last night: "I congratulate you on your nomination. I congratulate you on all my heart and earnestly wish the greatest success for you in November."

BONUS BONDS IN MAIL: POSTAL WORKERS LABOR

Chicago, June 12.—(AP)—A week-end of overtime, culminating Monday night and Tuesday in delivery of veterans' bonus bond certificates, faced the Chicago post-office today.

Certificates for five states—Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Indiana—were being distributed into pouches for delivery by local carriers.

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen said more than 400,000 packages of bond certificates and the checks for odd amounts were ready to be placed in the mails. Others, he added, were being delivered rapidly, taxing the efforts of the 200 regular clerks and 300 extras.

For the state of Illinois, about 175,000 applications for more than $92,000,000 had been approved yesterday by veterans' bureau officials at Hines Hospital. Receipts of applications today and tomorrow—which will mean delivery on Monday night, officials said—were expected to raise the totals to about 200,000 and $100,000,000.

Harry Lazier Given Post on Paper Staff

Evanston, Ill., June 12.—Harry Lazier of Dixon has recently been appointed to next year's staff of the Daily Northwestern, student newspaper at Northwestern university. The paper is published four days a week, and is edited entirely by students.

Twice each year the staff puts out special editions. One of these is turned over to the women journalists on the campus, who assume control of the paper for one day. The other special edition gives the staff the opportunity to foretell the newspaper of the future. This year's visionary endeavor was called the Newspaper of the Radio Age, which featured unusual type arrangements, and introduced interpretive comment, set in italic type, at the beginning of news stories.

Lazier has been appointed to the position of desk editor on the Daily Northwestern for the school year 1936-37. In addition to his activities on the paper, he was active in the mock political convention. He is a member of the Wrangler fraternity.

Journal Comments Coss Dairy, Dixon

The June issue of "Time and Temperature," published by the department of health "to promote safe pasteurized milk," has the following concerning the Coss dairy in Dixon:

"Coss Dairy, Dixon have gone ahead authorities one better. They installed new pasteurizers equipped with all latest improvements including new recording thermometers. Their old thermometers were perfectly good, of the right design but worth little for trading so they installed them in place of indicating thermometer on the space heaters. Now they have a record of operation of the air and foam heaters."

Professional Clowns Here on Saturday

Toio & Flipp, professional clowns, will give a series of free exhibitions on the streets and in the stores of Dixon between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock Saturday, under the auspices of Dixon merchants. Both have had much experience under the big tops, and are on their way to Georgia to join a circus. Their acts are especially designed to please the children and the local businessmen invite all in the Dixon trading territory to come to Dixon Saturday and see their antics.

G. O. P. Standard - Bearer

Governor Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, unanimously nominated for the presidency of the United States in the Republican convention at Cleveland last night, is shown above as he moved with brisk, twinkling stride down a shade-dappled street in Topeka, his daily schedule undisturbed by the momentous event in the Ohio city, 750 miles away.

Landon was born 48 years ago in Pennsylvania. He was still young when his parents went west. After a brief time in banking as a young man he entered the independent oil business and accumulated enough to live comfortably.

His first essay into politics was as a precinct organizer for the Bull Moose movement in 1912. Steadily he rose in party councils, being aligned a few years back with a Liberal faction.

He first attracted national notice when elected governor of Kansas despite the Roosevelt landslide in 1932. When he repeated

WIFE SHOT TIP OF FINGER OFF SLAYING MATE

Butler, Mo., June 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Clara H. Roth, 50, was held in the Bates county jail here today on a charge of murdering her husband, Frank A. Roth, 57, with a small gauge shotgun as he slept last night at their farm home near here.

Sheriff Bert Bradley said Mrs. Roth told him she killed her husband because life with him had become "unbearable."

"I awoke about midnight," the sheriff quoted Mrs. Roth as saying, "The longer I thought about how my husband abused me the more I thought I should do something about it. So I got up about midnight and got a 410 gauge double-barreled shotgun."

"I placed the index finger of my left hand over the muzzle and placed the finger against his head. I forgot to take my finger away and when I fired the gun I shot the end of the finger off. Then I fired the other trigger. He died instantly."

The Roths were married in Jacksonville, Ill., in 1920, and came to this county in 1928. They had no children.

Enrollments for CCC Sought Here

The Lee County Emergency Relief Committee has been asked to prepare a list of young men who will be eligible for CCC enrollment between July 1st and July 15th.

The standards of eligibility are: that the young men must be from relief families, from PWA families or those families who are willing to sign a notarized statement and be investigated as to their need for this additional income. The applicants must be between the ages of 17 and 28 inclusive.

Applications will be received daily in the Dixon relief office and at the Amboy relief office on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday mornings.

ROAD HOUSES TO BE CONSIDERED EARLY IN JULY

The board of supervisors will consider more stringent regulation of Lee county road houses at a special meeting to be held early in July, it was indicated today as it prepared to adjourn. The judiciary committee was not prepared to submit a plan for the consideration of the board and the liquor commission had not met to outline a new plan, it was stated.

The draft of a resolution was said to have been prepared, however, which would provide that all road houses close at 12 o'clock each night, and it was expected that this action would be followed by the board members at the special meeting in July, according to voiced opinions of several of the members. Action of the county boards of Ogle and Bureau counties providing a 1-2 o'clock closing hour with no sales on Sundays taken into consideration by the Lee county supervisors in previous years in preparing new regulations of the road house in this county. Operators of two road houses were said to have approached individual members of the board and urged the 12 o'clock closing hour.

BORAH REFUSES TO PROMISE GOP TICKET SUPPORT

Says He's Not Clear on Landon's Telegram to Convention

Washington, June 12.—(AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho refused today to say whether he would vote for Governor Landon for president.

Back in Washington after being defeated by the Kansas for the Republican presidential nomination, he told reporters he was "not clear" as to the meaning of the message Landon sent to the Cleveland convention before he was nominated last night.

Republican leaders had been waiting anxiously for word as to Borah's attitude toward the gold plank which Landon added to the convention platform. The Idahoan previously had opposed vigorously a return to a gold monetary standard.

"I do not care to comment on Governor Landon's message to the convention," Borah said at a press conference. "I am not clear as to what it means."

Calls Change Impossible
"If it means he is for the gold standard, of course, I am wholly in disagreement with that, but he says he is not in favor, as I understand it, of returning to the gold standard unless it can be done without penalizing our democratic economy and without injury to our producers of agricultural products."

"But it can not be done without doing both. There can be no greater threat to the producers of this country than a pledge to return to the gold standard. We had the gold standard, and it was one of the great causes of the demoralization of agriculture as well as the general economic breakdown."

"There ought not to be any doubt about that matter and there isn't any doubt about it as far as I am concerned."

Withholds Statement
He said that he had "no statement to make, and will not have until I return to Idaho, with reference to the campaign."

"I have not had time to study the platform as a whole," he continued, "but with reference to the planks to which I gave most consideration I am quite in harmony particularly the foreign policy and monopoly and the omission of any threat to return to the gold standard."

He declined to say whether he would seek re-election to the senate.

Borah declared he felt "no objection" to Col. Frank Knox, the Republican nominee for vice-president.

Got Square Deal
Asked whether he thought he had received a "square deal" in negotiations with Landon leaders, he said:

"I am willing to say it was a square deal."

He added he had received no personal assurances from the Landon group as to its stand on currency. Asked whether he thought President Roosevelt would be re-elected, he said, "we'll wait and see how things develop."

In reply to a query as to whom he would vote for president, he smiled: "We have the Australian ballot in our state."

The Australian ballot is secretly cast.

UNANIMOUSLY SELECTED IN CONVENTION

Are Promised Full Support of All But Sen. Borah

Cleveland, June 12.—(AP)—Unanimous in convention but with Senator Borah still an enigma, the Republicans launched their presidential campaign today behind the ticket of Landon and Knox.

The party spokesmen, after much floor activity, nominated Col. Frank Knox of Illinois for vice president in the sixth and final session of their quadrennial meeting. When, finally, Wisconsin joined the sudden rush, unanimity on the three big decisions in a row became assured.

Just before adjournment, Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, presidential nominee, messaged the delegates praising the platform as a "charter of economic freedom." He was expected to lose little time in picking John Hamilton, his campaign manager, to head the party's national committee.

Whether Senator Borah of Idaho would campaign for the ticket, remain silent or bolt in view of Landon's advocacy of the gold standard was a question. Back in Washington, he declined to say.

Leaders Surprised
The breadth and speed of the Knox movement, once its full proportions were finally manifest, took some of the Landon leaders by surprise.

From the start of the call of the states, the delegates went for him "without a dissent," cheered a telegram from Landon saying the "road led to victory in November," and disbanded at 1:14 P. M. E. S. T. for the intense campaign already under way.

For a time a "draft Vandenberg" movement seemed in the making. But the Michigan senator, in a letter read to the convention, asked that his name not be considered. He said he could "serve more effectively on the floor of the senate during the next Landon administration."

Knox Had Departed
Col. Knox had left the city evidently with a landslide for him farthest from his mind. He indicated an expectation that Vandenberg would be nominated and would accept.

There were plain signs that some of the main Landon leaders were working for Vandenberg on the ticket, even after the convention met. But they finally joined the rush.

No other name was voted on. As did the rivals of Governor Landon last night, Governor Harry W. Nice of Maryland and former Ambassador Walter Edge of New Jersey released their delegates and took to platform to advocate the popular choice.

The name of Arthur W. Little of New York also was withdrawn, leaving Knox the only name before the convention.

N. Y. Said for Knox
One of the deciding factors was a caucus which sent the 90 New York votes solidly for Knox. Right up to the meeting of the session, there was talk of drafting Vandenberg but he was adamant.

The sing song of the roll call sounded like an echo of the procession of the states to the Kansas governor for the presidential nomination last night.

Michigan cast its 388 for Knox, although a previous announcement had said that state would go for Vandenberg.

The official total of the first and only ballot for vice president was Knox 1903, others, none.

Last Night's Session
Soon after the platform went through last night John Hamilton, Landon campaign manager, stepped to the speaker's rostrum with a telegram from Topeka. Landon wired that he would unqualifiedly pledge himself to "be true to the principles and program" of the document.

"However," the governor added, "with that candor which you and the country are entitled to expect of me, I feel compelled before you proceed with consideration of my name to submit my interpretations of certain planks in the platform so that you may be advised as to my views."

He went on to declare that if it should prove impossible for states to regulate women's and children's wages and hours without a constitutional amendment "I shall

UNINVITED

By Joseph Fort Newton

WHEN Mark Twain went on his trip, "Following the Equator", writing to pay his debts, he tells us of his plans and arrangements, and of those invited to go with him. "Also a carbuncle," he adds. Of course, the carbuncle had not been invited to the party, but it insisted on going along. Everywhere, something or someone butts in, uninvited, and upsets our plans.

The problem of dealing with uninvited experience is one of the finest arts of life. Events mess up things, people interrupt, and we have to readjust our arrangements on a new scale.

An uninvited guest taxes the tact and skill of a host or hostess. We must be courteous and kind, even when we are vexed, or surprised. It asks for resource and quick decision on our part.

Jesus tells a vivid little parable about a man who went to a wedding and was put out because he did not have on the wedding garment. He was invited, but did not know enough to dress properly.

How simple life would be if we could banish things that bother us! Just show them the door and be rid of them! But, alas, the situation is not always simple.

Besides, an uninvited guest may turn out to be a precious friend; an unwanted fact may prove to be decisive for good. We may entertain angels unawares as we read in a lovely Bible story.

Many a time, what looked like bad luck at first showed itself to be the best of good luck, if not a saving grace. Just when we are saddest, a poet tells us, some beautiful thing may break in.

The unexpected happens, as often for good as for ill. Uninvited facts change everything. Kipling could not imagine himself unwilling to live another day to see what turns up.

Long ago two men walked in the gloaming of the day, dejected and sad. A stranger joined them, uninvited. As he talked their hearts burned within them for the uninvited Guest was the Son of God! (Copyright, 1936, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Wawokiye Club Meeting Wednesday

Mrs. Will Castle entertained the Wawokiye club at her home on the Lincoln Highway in Palmyra Wednesday June 10th. There were ten members present and two guests, one of whom, Mrs. Catherine Sauer, joined the club.

A delicious picnic dinner was served at noon, after which the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. John Stanley, Jr. Roll call was answered by telling bright sayings of children. The subject for the afternoon's entertainment was a very interesting one, remodeling, renovating and dyeing.

The guests as they left thanked Mrs. Castle for her gracious hospitality and all hope to meet next month with Mrs. Lester Hoyle, on Wednesday, July 1st.

Roll call at this meeting will be answered by giving household hints and the subject for entertainment will be vegetable salads.

MISS GEISENHEIMER ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

Miss Anna Geisenheimer entertained eight guests at dinner last evening. Mrs. Marjorie of Capetown, Africa; Mrs. John T. Warren of Honolulu, T. H.; and Mrs. Jas. Hobbins of Butte, Montana, were out-of-town guests. During the evening Mrs. Warren gave a splendid talk on the beauties of the Hawaiian Islands, where she has lived for several years. Mrs. Warren is a well known newspaper and magazine writer.

Buttered Broccoli

Biscuits

Lenox Summer Conserve

Apricot Sherbet

Caramel Pecan Strips

Coffee or Iced Tea

Milk For Children Daily

Stuffed Veal Chops

(Summer Style, Quickly Made)

4 veal chops (loin)

1-2 teaspoon salt

1-4 teaspoon paprika

Wipe off chops with damp cloth, place in shallow pan and broil 10 minutes. Turn several times to allow even cooking. Sprinkle with salt and paprika, spread with stuffing and broil five minutes to brown tops. Serve immediately.

Stuffing

2 tablespoons fat

1 teaspoon chopped onion

1 teaspoon chopped parsley

1 teaspoon chopped celery

1-1/2 cups bread, crumbled

1-4 teaspoon salt

1-4 teaspoon pepper

1-4 teaspoon poultry seasoning

2 tablespoons cream

Melt fat in frying pan, add and brown onion, add rest of ingredients. Cook slowly three minutes, stirring with fork.

Caramel Pecan Strips

1-2 cup fat

1 cup dark brown sugar

2 eggs

1 teaspoon vanilla

1-3 cup pecans

1-4 teaspoon cloves

1-4 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons cream

2 cups flour

1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream fat and sugar. Add eggs and beat two minutes. Add rest of ingredients. Spread dough over shallow, greased baking pan. The dough should be pressed down with broad side of spatula until dough is about 1-8 inch thick. Bake eight minutes in moderate oven. Cut into strips and while warm roll in sugar, either confectioner's or granulated.

A little—not too much—onion juice (squeezed from freshly cut onion) adds a piquant flavor to fish on vegetable salads.

Miss M. C. Lodge of St. Thomas, Canada, is the guest of Mrs. E. H. Prince.

Eich-Larson Wedding in Rochelle

A very pretty wedding ceremony took place at the Presbyterian church Saturday morning in Rochelle at 9:30 when Miss Ruth Larson and Mr. Charles Eich took the marriage vows. The pastor, Rev. Frank A. Campbell, read the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Gertrude Eich, sister of the groom, and Walter Larson brother of the bride, was best man.

A wedding breakfast was served in the church parlors, which was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. The center piece was a cake, which was the gift of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Tilda Larson.

The bride, who graduated from the Rochelle high school in the class of 1926, has been holding a responsible position in the offices of the Hohenadel Printing Co. The groom has been employed at the Morgan Dyeing Co. the past two years. Both young people have many friends who wish them unbounded happiness. They will reside in one of the Daily apartments at 414 1/2 Cherry Ave.

James Hodges 91 on Monday

James Hodge of Rochelle celebrated his ninety-first birthday anniversary Monday, June 8th. In honor of the event a family gathering took place at the Tilton lunch room Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Hodge was born June 8, 1845, at Ogdensburg, New York, and he has resided in and around Rochelle for the last seventy years. He spent his active years farming. For the last fifteen years he has resided at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Tilton in Rochelle. He is to be congratulated upon his long life and vigorous constitution. May he enjoy many more happy years.

Other Members of Mrs. Todd's Class

Mrs. R. W. Sproul, who fifty years ago as Miss Anna Todd, was one of the graduating class of the North Dixon high school, today recalled the other members of the class as being: Miss Emma Johnson, now in Long Beach, Calif.; Miss Lillian Prescott of Dixon; Miss Minnie Decker, now Mrs. W. A. Rhodes of Dixon; herself, and Thomas Erwin, deceased. The graduating exercises were held in the opera house, she says.

Mrs. Hart Gave Bridge Breakfast

Mrs. Wilbur Hart entertained friends at breakfast Thursday morning followed by three tables of bridge. Garden roses were the attractive decorations. Mrs. C. H. Bokhof received the favor for high honors; Mrs. James Hobbins received the second favor and Mrs. Sam Watson the third.

Out of town guests included Mrs. John T. Warren of Honolulu, T. H.; Mrs. James Hobbins, Butte, Mont.; and Mrs. Marjorie of Capetown, Africa.

BONUS TO THE NORTH

Soldiers of the World War were not aware of all the things we talked about back home, but one of the things mentioned from time to time was that the south was in the saddle in Washington and the draft quotas assigned to northern states were out of proportion to those for southern states. More northern men were being put into uniform, according to population of their states, than southern men.

The south again is in the saddle, but when the bonus is distributed it has to be according to men who were put into uniforms, and there is nothing the southern statesmen can do about paying the soldiers' bonus to the northern soldiers in greater proportion than to the south.

Statistics are at hand on the distribution of the bonus among the several states, and they disclose something the northern soldiers will like to look at now, nearly twenty years after it was done to them.

No southern state is near enough to Illinois in population to permit apt comparison, so we take neighboring states. We use the population figures for 1920, which are those nearest to the dates of the drafts.

Iowa, with a population of 2,404,021, and Alabama, with a population of 2,348,174, are about of equal size, but Iowa receives bonus money amounting to $41,019,- 480 and Alabama receives only $26,888,528. North Carolina, with a population of 2,559,123 receives only $34,662,162.

Indiana, with a population of 2,930,390, receives $50,730,589 but Georgia, with a population of 2,895,832, receives only $32,262,946.

Texas had a population nearly a fifth larger than Massachusetts, but each receives 83 millions in bonus funds. However, without going into a detailed examination we are of the opinion that Texas carried a relatively larger share of the load than other southern states.

Tennessee and Virginia each were about on an equality with Minnesota in population. Minnesota receives $52,789,520; Tennessee, $32,497,536; Virginia, $36,811,791.

Joining Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota,
we have a population of 10,353,602. Joining Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana and South Carolina, we have a population of 11,446,903, which is 10 per cent more.

Yet the northern group draws down bonus money amounting to $191,717,304, and the southern group receives only $150,233,163.

Besides all that, the automobile industry statisticians estimate that 122 millions of the bonus money will be expended for automobiles, and the south will send its proportion of that up north.

Regardless of what some of our theorists are handing out these days, there is a leveling process somewhere; there is a law of compensation; two and two still make four; we can't pull ourselves up by bootstraps; and the fellow who dances has to pay the fiddler.

So, we get the big end of the bonus.

MEN OPPOSE MINIMUM WAGE LAWS

Some misunderstanding is likely on the issue of minimum wages.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, went before the resolutions committee of the republican national convention and said that his organization is opposed to fixing of minimum wages for men by law.

Members of the federation of labor want reserved to themselves that right of bargaining and entering into contract that the supreme court said is a part of that liberty guaranteed under the constitution.

While the principle is the same, whether applied to men or to women, the fact was that the New York law did not apply to men but to women.

It has been the contention of leaders in organized labor that when minimum wages are fixed under law, the minimum wages are likely also to become the maximum wages, and that they do not desire. It is quite likely that the contention is based upon statistical facts and not merely upon theory.

In the circumstances, we suppose that to pass laws fixing minimum wages for women is progressive and liberal legislation, but to pass laws fixing minimum wages for men is reactionary.

We don't get it, but there it is as it shows in the record.

We got into this matter of legislating wages by precedent of legislating on too long days.

When inquiry into railway collisions developed the fact that telegraph operators had been working too many hours without sleep or that trainmen had been pressed into service likewise, congress, exercising its power over interstate commerce, passed laws limiting the number of hours such employees could be kept continuously on duty. The law had to do with the safety of passengers on trains and nothing else.

Precedent of limitation of hours having been set as a matter of security for passengers soon thereafter was used by railway workers as a means of obtaining more pay. This was brought about through the Adamson law, which fixed eight hours as a day's work, not as a safety measure, but to compel the payment of overtime on train runs that exceeded eight hours, and the division points were so situated that the increase in pay was considerable.

When legislatures began giving attention to factory inspection from the standpoint of safety and sanitation, it was but a step to the law on working hours for women. As a rule the legislation was reasonable, the object being protection of health, just as the limitation on telegraphers' hours was for safety of the public.

Precedent of limitation of hours of women workers set as a matter of health later was being used for regulation of wages. It is quite a step from protection of health to regulation of compensation contracts, but it was being undertaken.

To amend the constitution so that states can regulate wages of women but can not regulate wages of men is drawing a fine line.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

"Oh, goodness me, what awful right. Let's plead with him with luck we always have. Once more were stuck," wailed Windy. "Now our dog is gone. That spoils a dandy ride."

"The hound, which was a work of art, was ready to hitch to a cart.
Then Duncy had to spoil it all.
Gee, I could tan his hide."

"Why did you make that crazy cat? You ought to know a thing like that would make our wooden hound run wild," snapped Goldy, with a frown.

"Now there's no need to build a cart, 'cause we have no way to depart. Just think! You've spoiled our plan to drive off to some brand-new town."

"I'm sorry," they heard Duncy say. "But, tots, I know another way that we can move from this place. If the magic man will aid."
"He is a carpenter, you see, and just as clever as can be. If he is willing, something we can ride in can be made."

"Gee, Duncy, maybe you are

"Hip, hip, hooray! What shall it be? Most anything's all right with me," yelled Coppy. "Make suggestions and we'll pick the best of all."

"However, don't suggest a boat,
'cause I would rather fly than float.
Besides, once more into the soaking sea we might all fall."

The whole bunch thought for quite a while and then fair Doty, with a smile, said, "How about a box kite that will carry all of us?"

The magic man exclaimed,
"Okay! I'll start to build one right away. With some help from you Titties, 'twon't take long to get it done."

(The magic man tries out the box kite in the next story.)

Telegraph To Present Tennis Tourney Winner Fine Trophy

Meeting is Next Monday in Telegraph Office to Select Playing Dates

Framing of Rules, Procuring Court Are Necessary

Plum Hollow Gala Day and Round-up Thursday, June 18

A trophy will be awarded the winner of the city tennis tournament in singles competition, by the Dixon Evening Telegraph, and a meeting has been called for 7.30 P. M. Monday, June 15 in the carrier boys' room of the Telegraph office to decide playing dates favorable to the majority of the eighty-one persons who have signified their desire to enter.

Following is a list of those who wish to enter the tournament and it is important that they attend the meeting Monday night:

Louis Sinow, Lyle Myers, James Bales, John Mitchell, Bud Nichols, Bill McGinnis, Bob Kline, William Hardy, Art Cron, Herbert Walker, Vernon Anderson, Fred Aydelotte, Dick Durkes, Carl Plowman, Duane Woods, Al Boyd, Glenn Clark, Bob McCardie, Max Eno, Bob Eno, Ken Haines, Garner, T. Hauppert, Richard Newcomb, Bud Hansen, Bud Lennon, Art Klein, Gene Callahan, Harry Minnihan, Jr., Bradley Moll.

Graydon Moll, Lester Pitcher, Ed Nagle, Bill O'Malley, Charles O'Connor, Louis Schumm, Robert Sterling, Dwight Warner, E. Logan, Clyde Carson and Charles H. Ross. Entered in a proposed women's division are LaVerne Atkinson, Anna Malarkey, Dorothy Cronwell, Vera Anning, Marina Wood, Elsie Neff, Pearl Neff, Margaret Scriven, Catherine Lebre, Mrs. Clyde Carson and Gertrude Wallin.

At the meeting definite tournament rules will be decided upon regarding the forfeiture of games for non-appearance at scheduled matches. Provisions will be made for playing off matches halted by possible rain on tournament playing dates. Selection of two days each week for the playing of the tournament matches will be made in order that the courts can be reserved for those dates until the net meet is completed. At the meeting Monday, entrants will draw the names of their first round opponents from the hat.

Two committees will also be chosen, one to arrange for reservation of the courts at Dixon high school, and one to aid in preparing the brackets for the number of rounds necessary to complete the tournament.

Equipment Necessary
All entrants in the city tennis tournament will be required to furnish their own balls, nets and rackets. Upon completion of each match, the winner shall be required to turn in the score by sets, his name and the name of his opponent on a slip of paper to the sports department of the Evening Telegraph by noon the day following the match. There will be no doubles tournament arranged unless popular support for such a tournament is given at the meeting Monday. The tourney will begin upon a date within the next week to be announced in the Telegraph following any decision made at the meeting Monday.

All intending to enter the tournament should notify C. H. Ross of the Dixon Evening Telegraph sports department before Wednesday, June 17 by phone or other notice.

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ, Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, June 12.—(AP)—The Van Mungo episode has put Casey Stengel on the spot. Two players have quit his ball club since the season opened. What is the front office thinking? . . . Anyway, the rumor factory has it this was to have been the division year or else, for Casey.

One report says the Dodgers may change pilots before the end of the season. . . . "Judge" McKeever, the 81-year-old president, leans to Burleigh Grimes, former Dodger star, now managing Louisville. . . . Joe Gillette, vice president, representing the Ebbetts interests, holds out for Babe Ruth. . . . Casey has a three year contract, covering next season, but that wouldn't cut any ice if the Dodgers decided to make a change. . . . Max Carey's contract still had some time to go. . . . But they paid him off and took on Stengel.

Buddy Hassett, Brooklyn's young first base star, wants to wind up as a Tammany Hall politician. . . . Omigod! . . . Those typewriter pounding Smiths. . . . Harry of the San Francisco Chronicle and Wilfred of the Chicago Tribune—have checked in for the fight. . . . The New York state athletic commission's refusal to recognize little petty Sarron as the featherweight champ gets nothing but the old razzberry from Virginia south. . . . When Petey returned to his home town, Birmingham, after licking Freddie Miller, they loaded him down with diamond rings, gold watches and enough inscribed keys to unlock every city in the south.

Roots of the mandrake plant are said to be the oldest hypnotic known to mankind.

COUNTRY CLUB PLAE DAE WAS BIG SUCCESS

Many Prizes Given the Low Scorers and Other Winners

Forty-five Country Club golfers participated in the most successful annual spring Plae Dae ever sponsored by the club, Thursday.

Competitions were divided into two flights. In Flight A, low net score was won by Ken Detweiler of Dixon who carded a 72 while Dr. H. A. Lazier took low gross count with a 76. Low score for nine holes was taken by Johnny Varona of Oregon, it being a 36. In Flight B, low net count was taken by Jack Edwards of Amboy with an 81, while low gross score was won by Bill Wieser of Amboy who took an 86. Bill Keenan's 68 was the highest score of the day for nine holes in Flight B while low scorer for nine holes in that flight was Jim Huber of Rockford who shot a 39.

Following were the merchants who donated prizes to the winners from the field of entrants representing clubs of Oregon, Rockford, Princeton, Sterling, Plum Hollow (Dixon) Country Club (Dixon) and Amboy:

YANKEES NEED PITCHING TO RETAIN LEAD

Deshong Improves In Washington Lineup Now

BY SID FEDER, Associated Press Staff Writer.
If he's not doing so yet, Marce Joe McCarthy probably will be "moaning low" before this American League race gets much older over the deal by which his New York Yankees parted company with Pitcher Jimmy Deshong.

The one thing the Yanks apparently will need in the stretch is pitching. They have batting power to spare. Their defensive fielding is up to par. But their mound staff, from all indications, may be the difference between a pennant and second place—just as it was last year.

Last January, the Yanks gave up Deshong and Jesse Hill to Washington in exchange for Bump Hadley and Roy Johnson. To date, Deshong is taking his regular turn on the mound for the Nats, and has chalked up seven wins against three losses. Hadley is just "another guy named Joe" so far as the Yanks starting mound staff is concerned.

Deshong Blanks White Sox.
Deshong seems to be improving and yesterday he shut out the Chicago White Sox cold with two hits for a 2-0 victory. Hadley, meantime, was one of five pitchers McCarthy sent to the mound before the Yanks subdued the Tigers, 10-9 in ten slugging innings, a feature of which was Lou Gehrig's twelfth home run.

The Yank, however, could not increase their 2½ game first place edge, for the Red Sox, aided by Rick Ferrell's homer and three-run double, came from behind the St. Louis Browns 7-5. The seventh-place Athletics turned the trick on the Cleveland Indians 5-2. Bob Johnson's two homers and a double just about decided that affair.

The head of the National league race tightened up on the strength of the Chicago Cubs' 6-4 win over the Boston Bees to move into second place over the idle Pittsburgh Pirates. The St. Louis Cardinals' lead was sliced to 2½ games when the pace-setters were roundly belted by the lowly Phillies, 12-4, for the first time this season.

The Giants at Pittsburgh were rained out while the Cincinnati Reds, entertaining the Mungo-less Dodgers in the season's second night game, noosed out the Brooklyn 4-3.

TEUTON GIVEN SMALL CHANCE TO BEAT LOUIS

Schmeling Has Good Right That May Tag Bomber

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor

New York, June 12.—(AP)—On one side or the other of the fistie raffle, Manhattan's 49th street, you may hear:

(1) That Max Schmeling will be the first man to crawl into the same ring with Joe Louis unafraid of what's going to happen to him and not handicapped by the hitters.

This part of the buildup sounds like so much whistling in the dark. No one has even questioned the German's courage, for that matter, but he will need weapons besides fearlessness if he hopes to last very long against the chocolate clouter.

(2) That Louis, strictly a counter-puncher, can be beaten by a fighter who moves consistently to the Bomber's left.

It's difficult to see just how helpful such tactics can be unless the party of the second part moves far enough to the left—or right—to keep completely out of range of Joe's fists. All such maneuvers so far have had no effect on the ultimate finish of the Negro's opponents. His counter punches carry a knock-out, in either hand, so that his lack of impetuosity in the ring does not come under the heading of a handicap.

(3) That Schmeling has developed a very effective left hand with which to keep the Bomber at bay.

This is so much training camp hokum. The German never had a left hand jab of hook comparable to the best in the business and it's a trifle too late to develop one on short notice. Schmeling has always been a right-handed puncher. At the height of his career he was a good one. If he tags Louis with it, Joe will know he has been hit.

(4) That Louis has never fought a man as cagey or resourceful as the German schlager.

This seems true enough but Schmeling will need all the eagerness and resourcefulness at his command to last long against a rival who carries all the advantages in footwork, boxing ability, youth and punching power. Battle-scarred old Pauline, cagey enough to go the full route three times with Schmeling, was just a pop-over for Louis last winter.

(5) That Louis has yet to prove he is a real super-fighter against high-class opposition.

Perhaps so, but when the "high class opposition" shows up, Louis will still do all right. There's no fighter in the same class with him now, including Schmeling and champion James J. Braddock. In two years he has beaten any and everyone willing to meet him with such finality that there's only one answer.

The farthest light can penetrate into the ocean is from 3600 to 3400 feet.

LOUIS BATTERS FIVE SPARRING MATES TO FLOOR

Brown Bomber Shows Instinct in Practice

Lakewood, N. J., June 12.—(AP)—Joe Louis' handlers have finished their hardest job.

Into the heart of the once cherubic Negro boy from Detroit they have forever instilled the spirit of the "killer" who shows his foe no mercy until he lays stretched out on the canvassed floor.

"Joe know now; he's got it in his head fo' good," said trainer Jack Blackburn. "He know now that the only referee worth while to him am the referee he carry around in his fist. He know now tha' the only way to win to smash 'em down 'til they can no get up no mo'."

As Joe battered five sparring partners yesterday in an indoor workout, you could see the spirit of a destroyer—a killer of the ring—on his set, sullen face. Not once did he smile when his human punching bags tried to stall for time with a fleeting smile that he wiped off quickly with thudding right uppercuts.

Trainer Encouraged

Blackburn grinned encouragingly at the Brown Bomber as he leveled his pitiless blows. During a brief let-up, he shouted:

"C'mon now boy, give it to 'em; that's what spawing partners are fo'. Swing dat right, boy. Swing it hard."

A terrific right uppercut unquestionably will be the blow that Louis will aim at Schmeling's chin. Except for jabbing purposes, the Brown Bomber has kept his left inactive during his long training, working and developing his right uppercut. Development of the blow has made his exhibitions slightly less interesting but more devastating for the sparring mates.

This was an off day in Joe's camp, so he arranged a fishing party with a big boat load of newspaper reporters following closely behind.

LANDON'S VIEWS ABOUT PLATFORM WERE EXPLAINED

Indicated His Stand in Telegram to Convention Last Night

Cleveland, June 12.—(AP)—The text of Governor Landon's telegram to the Republican convention last night:

My name is to be presented for your consideration as a candidate for the nomination for President of the United States.

The platform recommended by your committee on resolutions and adopted by the convention has been communicated to me.

I note that according to the terms of that platform "the acceptance of the nomination tendered by this convention carries with it, as a matter of private honor and public faith, an undertaking by each candidate to be true to the principles and program herein set forth."

If nominated I unqualifiedly accept the word and spirit of that undertaking.

However, with that candor which you and the country are entitled to expect of me, I feel compelled before you proceed with the consideration of my name to submit my interpretations of certain planks in the platform so that you may be advised as to my views. I could not in conscience do otherwise.

On Labor Plank

Under the title of labor the platform commits the Republican party as follows: "Support the adoption of state laws and interstate compacts to abolish sweat shops and child labor, and to protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages, and working conditions. We believe that this can be done within the constitution as it now stands."

I hope the opinion of the convention is correct that the aims which you have in mind may be attained with the constitution as it now stands. But, if that opinion should prove to be erroneous, I want you to know that, if nominated and elected, I shall favor a constitutional amendment permitting the states to adopt such legislation as may be necessary adequately to protect woman and children in the matter of maximum hours, minimum wages, and working conditions. This obligation we cannot escape.

For Gold Standard

The convention advocates "a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards." I agree that "the first requisite to a sound and stable currency is a balanced budget." The second requisite, as I view it, is a currency expressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold.

I recognize, however, that the second requisite must not be made effective until and unless it can be done without penalizing our domestic economy and without injury to our producers of agricultural products and other raw materials.

The convention pledges the party to the merit system and to its restoration, improvement and extension.

In carrying out this pledge I believe that there should be included within the merit system every position in the administrative service below the rank of assistant secretaries of major departments and agencies, and that this inclusion should cover the entire post office department.

MET IN OREGON

Fifteen Scouts attended a meeting at the circuit clerk's room of the Ogle county court house in Oregon Thursday evening to reorganize Scouting in Oregon.

A new Scoutmaster will be selected to replace W. W. Lockwood who has been appointed assistant-district commissioner of Ogle county. A new troop committee was also appointed consisting of the following: G. M. Poley, chairman; Clare Bradford, Roland Kiest, W. L. Pickering, Howard Eychaner, Frank Einsweiler, Gerald K. Girard, A. I. Maxwell, Alpha Jones.

The finance campaign to raise Oregon's share of the area budget was also discussed. The troop committee will meet Tuesday noon to consider definite plans to organize the finance drive and select a Scoutmaster.

Hesitancy in Business This Week is Noted

New York, June 12.—(AP)—Hesitancy in the rate of business gain during the current week was noted today in the weekly review by Dun & Bradstreet.

"While the general pace of business has yet to be slowed, there were fewer gains recorded for most branches during the week," it was stated. "Swayed by the varying weather influences, retail distribution was about on a par with its previous level, but failed to hold some of the advantages over last year's showing."

"The generous commitments for some early fall lines were offset by slackening reorders to wholesalers, as retailers' stocks of summer merchandise were ample. Industrial operations were unchanged, despite minor schedule increases in a few of the heavy goods divisions."

Consumer buying, it was stated, moved forward unevenly as unsettled weather slowed the ascending trend of distribution of men's lightweight clothing, sportswear, underwear and straw hats."

RUSSIANS TO BE GIVEN A VOICE IN GOVERNMENT

Will Be Permitted to Elect Members of the Council of Union

Moscow, June 12.—(AP)—Soviet Russia hailed today an approaching type of "advanced democracy" under which her 165,000,000 people, enjoying new freedom, will elect part of their governing representatives by direct and secret vote.

A new constitution, drawn up for final enactment in the autumn, not only extends the rights of all citizens to freedom of speech, press, employment and religion, but guarantees protection for private property and sets up two parliament-like bodies.

One of these, the council of the Union, will be chosen by the people themselves. The right to vote and stand for re-election will be granted to all persons over 18 years old who are not disenfranchised by the courts, regardless of their sex, race, social origin, religious beliefs, previous activities or the amount of property they own.

The other supreme legislative body, the Council of Nationalities, will be chosen through the old indirect system of Soviets.

Board of 31 Officials
A board of 31 officials, chosen from the two legislative bodies, will wield the highest power of government.

"At present the highest authority in the Soviet state is the All-Union Congress of Soviets, which is made up of representatives of town Soviets. The congress elects an All-Union central executive committee. The central executive committee also forms a Council of People's Commissars or Cabinet, for the general administration of the affairs of the nation."

"Persons deprived of the franchise are those employing others for profit, living on unearned income, monks and priests of all religions, agents and employees of the former police, secret service, etc., members of the former reigning dynasty, imbeciles and wards and those deprived of civil rights by criminal courts."

"Persons employing hired labor, enjoying unearned income or engaging in trade may, however, obtain the right to vote from regional election commissions by showing that, at the time of the election, they are living on income derived from their own labor and are not exploiting the labor of others."

PRESIDENT HIT MONOPOLIES IN TEXAS ADDRESS

Spoke at Centennial Celebration at Dallas Fair Today

Dallas, Tex., June 12.—(AP)—Striking at monopoly and "chisellers" and calling for "democracy in opportunity" as well as in government, President Roosevelt declared today the net result of economic control by the few "has meant the ownership of labor as a commodity."

Standing the packed Texas Centennial stadium, the chief executive also asserted a "lessening of sectionalism" was apparent on every hand and the "good neighbor policy" should be extended across the border to Mexico and other lands so that war may be forever banished from this hemisphere.

He discussed national questions freely, as he did in the first set speech of his western tour at Little Rock, Ark., Wednesday night. "If labor is to be a commodity in the United States, in the final analysis it means that we shall become a nation of boarding houses instead of a nation of homes," he declared.

"If our people ever submit to that they will have said 'good-bye' to their historic freedom. Men do not fight for boarding houses. They will fight for their homes."

Cites Texas History

The President led up to his anti-monopoly theme by tracing the history of Texas was on the battlefield and against corporate control. "You found," he said, "that certain forms of monopoly—the combinations of public utilities and other businesses which sought their own ends—were undemocratic because they were hearing down heavily on their smaller competitors, and on the people they served. Because of this they were taking away opportunity."

"Today," he said, "we have restored democracy in government. We are in the process of restoring democracy in opportunity."

The President said the very nature of free government "demands that there must be a line of defense held by the yeomanry of business and industry and agriculture."

"Any elemental policy, economic or political, which tends to eliminate these dependable defenders of democratic institutions and to concentrate control in the hands of a few small, powerful groups, is directly opposed to the stability of government and to democratic government itself."

Stresses Less Sectionalism

Stressing again the necessity of the federal government taking a hand to cure economic evils when they get beyond state control, the President added:

"The more progressive of the states may do their share, but unless the action of the states is substantially uniform and simultaneous, the effectiveness of reform is nullified—crippled by the chisellers who, like many other evil-doers, still are with us."

Urging extension of his "good neighbor" policy, the President said: "I have taken great happiness here in these past three years as I see in the lessening sectionalism which is apparent on every hand."

"You in Texas whose boundaries extend for hundreds of miles along those of our sister republic of Mexico, can well understand what the good neighbor policy means through the Americas."

"We seek to banish war in this hemisphere; we seek to extend those practices of good will and closer friendship upon which peace itself is based."

BRITISH GIRLS LEAD AMERICA'S FOR TENNIS CUP

Wimbledon, Eng., June 12.—(AP)—The slightly favored British team lived up to expectations today as left-handed Kay Stammers and Dorothy Round, former Wimbledon champion, conquered Helen Jacobs, American titleholder, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabryan of Brookline, Mass., respectively, to give England a 2-0 lead in the opening of the Wightman Cup international tennis series.

After Miss Stammers outlasted Miss Jacobs in the curtain-raising match, 12-10, 6-1, Miss Round made it two straight for England by vanquishing Mrs. Fabryan, 6-3, 6-4.

The first set of the day was the longest in cup competition started in 1923 and it was Miss Stammers' second triumph over the four-times American champion in as many years.

The attractive British star defeated Miss Jacobs at Forest Hills, N. Y., last year in the curtain-raising singles encounter of the series. Miss Stammers won the marathon first set after an uphill battle. She overcame a 0-3 deficit and pulled up level in the eighth game.

A light drizzle that later materialized into a heavy drizzle, interrupted play at the end of the 21st game with the British star leading 11-10. Miss Jacobs, obviously fatigued from the long duel, yielded the deciding 22nd game on service.

HORNER'S FOES VIEW SATURDAY MEETING WARILY

Governor's Fellow Candidates May Not Attend Session

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—(AP)—Downstate Democrats who were on the other side of the fence from Governor Horner in the primary campaign today viewed tomorrow's downstate party rally here warily.

The meeting was called by six of the governor's most active campaign chiefs, but other state candidates kept to themselves their decisions on invitations to attend. It was certain, however, that the Horner faction would be there in full force.

The candidates, in "off the record" explanations, said they wanted to go along with the governor in the fall campaign but they weren't sure what sort of a meeting was planned for tomorrow. They feared it might be one at which their presence might not receive the approbation of Cook county chairman Patrick A. Nash or state chairman Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville.

Neither Nash or Campbell was invited.

Want Peaceful Session

F. Lynden Smith of Pontiac, business manager of the state highway division, whom the governor wants as downstate campaign manager for the state ticket, said he expected a peaceful meeting but his explanation of the intent of the meeting didn't touch upon what might be said or done concerning Nash or Campbell, who weren't invited.

None of the candidates would say, however, that they would not be there or not be represented. Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes said he had a previous engagement but would send Deputy Secretary Amos Richardson to represent him.

Stelle Not Certain

Treasurer John Stelle said he didn't know whether he'd be present, but probably would send James Hardie, his chief clerk.

"If it's an anti-Nash or anti-Campbell meeting I'm not going," the treasurer said.

Deputy Auditor Al Brodie said Edward J. Barrett, candidate for re-election as state auditor, might go.

There was no word from Attorney General Otto Kerner or John C. Martin, candidate for treasurer.

John Wakeman of Litchfield will preside at the meeting of Horner for Governor Veterans. They will get together with the other meeting at a luncheon at which the governor and Smith will speak. Veterans who campaigned for the organization before the primary also didn't get invitations.

200 ARE PRESENT AT DISTRICT MEET OF AUXILIARY HERE

More than 200 delegates, officers and guests were present on Tuesday at the meeting of the sixteenth district of the American Legion auxiliary, which was held at the Congregational church. Units from all districts were represented, and an interesting program was heard during the all-day session.

The local president of the organization, Mrs. Irene Jaskowiak, called the meeting to order at 10 o'clock in the morning, and Mrs. Irene Claywell of Pekin, sergeant-at-arms, led the advance of colors, with Mrs. Anne Uthoff, color bearer of Princeton, Mrs. Maybelle Matson, district American chairman, led the pledge of allegiance, and the invocation was given by Mrs. J. T. Nielson, district chaplain. Mrs. Jaskowiak then made an address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. Ida Dyer, district director, greetings of the city were extended by the mayor, Floyd N. Avery, and addresses were given by C. R. Johnson and L. A. Zearing. Roll call and official reports followed, after which Mrs. Marie Suthers, department president, gave an address, and a memorial service was presided over by Mrs. Rose Bittel, the Gold Star chairman of the district.

Musical numbers were given by violin pupils of Miss Madge Sue Boaz, and community singing preceded the luncheon, which was served at noon.

The following new officers have been named for the district: director, Mrs. Theis of Minier, and alternate director, Mrs. Reynolds of Wenona, district chaplain, Mrs. Keithahn, Walnut; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Shaw, Elmwood; district treasurer, Mrs. Claywell, Pekin; historian, Mrs. Hill, Peoria.

The Princeton unit of the auxiliary held a meeting on Monday evening, at which time election of officers took place as follows: President, Mrs. George Baxter; first vice president, Mrs. Morgan; second vice president, Mrs. E. Billings; historian, Mrs. Lee Nevius; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. A. Lamb. During the meeting of Monday evening plans also were discussed for a picnic to be held June 13.

Mrs. Ida Dyer of Springfield will be a delegate to the department and national convention.

COUNTY MINISTERS

WILL HOLD PICNIC

ON MONDAY, JUNE 15
Members of the Bureau County Ministerial association and their families will hold their annual picnic at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 15, at the City-County Park north of Princeton.

Entertainment is being planned for the young people, and a basket supper will be served.

As this is the final meeting of the association for this year, a business session will take place, with election of officers. In case of rain the picnic will be held in St. Matthew's Lutheran church.

CLUB BRIDGE PARTY

POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The regular bridge dinner at Bureau Valley Country Club, which was scheduled for this evening, has been postponed until Friday evening, June 19, because of the death of Mrs. Perry Trimble. The dinner will be served at 6:30 and will be followed by bridge. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Roe, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kinman, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graham are in charge of the affair.

MISS OLIVE PIERCE

ENTERTAINS AT HOME

Important among the church meetings of the week was the session of the Missionary society of the Congregational church which took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Olive Pierce on South Euclid Ave.

There were 24 guests present, and the business session was in charge of the president, Miss Carrie Dunbar, while Miss Mary Uthoff conducted the lesson, with the topic, "Looking Towards the Future."

MRS. FRED SAATHOFF

IS HOSTESS TO CLASS

Mrs. Fred Saathoff entertained members of the L. G. W. class of St. Matthew's Lutheran church on Wednesday afternoon at her home near Princeton, with 24 guests in attendance.

During the business session, which was conducted by the president, Mrs. Lee Hagen, an offering was collected for the Nachusa Orphanage near Dixon. Plans were made for a picnic to be held on Wednesday, July 8, at the City-County Park. Mrs. Rupert Carey and Mrs. Oscar Lungren were named as chairmen for the picnic arrangements. The class members will take covered dishes. Refreshments were served late in the afternoon.

GO TO RACINE

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Heck, with their son Frederick and daughter Barbara of Park Ave. East, went to Racine, Wis., on Thursday for a three day trip.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

MEETS WITH MRS. DAHL
The regular meeting of the Missionary society of the Methodist church took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Dahl on North Main St. with more than 20 members in attendance.

Mrs. C. G. Heck and Mrs. C. J. Riley, presidents of the Home and Foreign Missionary societies, presided at the business session, and the devotion for the afternoon took the form of a tribute to the memory of Mrs. James Fraser. Mrs. Heck led the devotion.

"Home Missions" was the topic of the program, of which Mrs. Postelwaite was in charge and at its conclusion the guests enjoyed refreshments.

ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE

FOR MANY ACTIVITIES

AT LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. Elmer T. Peters, pastor of the First Lutheran church, makes the following announcements regarding various activities in the church for this week:

The Lutheran Brotherhood met at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Members of the Dorcas society assembled at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, with Mrs. Andrew Nicholson and Mrs. Tracy Horton as hostesses.

The Lutheran League will meet at 8 o'clock this evening. The committee in charge will consist of Dorothea Johnson, Lillian Mildred, and John Nelson, Richard Ohlson and Homer Rapp. The young people will plan for the coming district meeting at Woodhull, and the Long Lake Bible conference.

The Sunday services: Teachers' prayer, 9:45; Sunday school, 10; Swedish service, 10:15; English services, 11; and vesper services, 7:30.

The second week of the daily vacation Bible school will open at 8:30 next morning. Children of the community are cordially invited to attend.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. TRIMBLE TAKE PLACE TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Carolyn Trimble, wife of Perry D. Trimble, Princeton attorney, were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence on Park Ave. West. Rev. John Acheson and Rev. Tope conducted a brief prayer service, and burial took place in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Trimble's death came as a shock to her many friends, although it followed a long illness. Last spring she left Princeton with her husband for a Canal cruise, but was taken ill on the voyage, and on her return to New York City was rushed to the Chicago Memorial hospital, where she remained until her death.

Mrs. Trimble had a host of friends in this city and vicinity and was prominent in church and club work as well as in society.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Smile-a-While bridge club which was announced for Wednesday afternoon, has been postponed.

Have Son

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Pierson of west of Princeton are the parents of a son, born Monday night at their home.

ALPHA CLASS MEETS

WITH MRS. L. SAXUM
The Alpha class of St. Matthew's Lutheran church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Leonard Saxum on Thompson St. Mrs. Gilbert Grampp was assistant hostess. There were 17 members present, and a religious service was held, when songs were sung accompanied by Mrs. Winnie Thompson Dyke on the piano.

Mrs. Frank Grampp was in charge of the business session.

Mrs. F. Grampp and Mrs. Albert Fenwick will entertain the class at the former's home on Tuesday evening, July 14.

Mabel Priestley Guild

The Mabel Priestley Guild of the Presbyterian church was entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. V. Field on Park Ave. East. Devotions and a business session were held, after which the guests enjoyed guessing games, and refreshments were served. The next meeting of the Guild will take place in September.

Meeting Announced

The next meeting of the Princeton-Sheffield bridge club will be held on Tuesday afternoon, June 23, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Dyke on Hudson St.

The Portuguese village of Ventosa is inhabited entirely by the descendants of Maria de Mattos. The population consists of her 14 children, 59 grandchildren, and 82 great-grandchildren.

LANDON PLEDGES AGGRESSIVENESS IN CAMPAIGNING

Given Tumultuous Serenade by Neighbors and His Friends

Topeka, Kas., June 12.—(AP)—Alf M. Landon picked out a new necktie, took a fighting stance and gathered up the reins of the Republican party today with the avowed determination of leading his followers to victory in November.

"I propose to wage the most aggressive campaign the Republican party has seen in years," the Kansas governor told newsmen shortly before the Cleveland convention unanimously named him its presidential nominee.

The tumult among Topeka's 65,000—when the phrase "Landon nominated" rippled across the wires and through the ether—was unparalleled here since the World War armistice.

In the ear-splitting demonstration thousands treaded their way through the downtown district and surged across the lawn of the executive mansion.

Bespoke Good Will

There near midnight, in the eerie glow of Kleig lights, and old-fashioned political red flares, the governor came to his front porch and bespoke the "good will" of his neighbors.

His gray hair slightly rumpled and his face flushed, the governor displayed his emotion in the timbre of his voice. He kept his gray, double-breasted suit trim but his necktie was crumpled and askew when the crush of the well-wishers abated.

Waving his hand for quiet Landon appeared before the uproarious crowd accompanied by Mrs. Landon and her mother.

"Nothing is more worthwhile than the regard of one's neighbors," he told the throng, suddenly become silent.

"Nothing tugs more strongly at one's heart strings than their good wishes. If, after three years as your governor, I did not enjoy your respect and good will, I should feel that I had failed."

"For the sentiments you manifest by your gathering here tonight, Mrs. Landon and I thank you from the bottom of our hearts. We shall always cherish the memory of this happy evening together."

Played Theme Song

Drum and bugle corps from one direction marched into, through and past bands from the other direction. All played the Landon theme song, "Oh, Susannah." Sidewalk throngs took up each chorus or contributed their own.

Small boys with firecrackers and men with bombs added to the din.

Automobile spotlights flashed from curb to curb, then shot into the air to meet the beam of a searchlight flashed down from an airplane that circled overhead.

Landon's voice betrayed his emotion as he read a telegram of congratulations from Ralph C. Mitchell, mayor of Independence, Kas., his home town.

He then introduced Mrs. Landon but her voice failed her.

The governor cut a huge cake, decorated with a message of congratulations to resemble a telegram, and passed out pieces to everyone within reach, motioning forward a crowd of eager-eyed messenger boys.

When he finally returned indoors with Mrs. Landon, the crowd showed no disposition to depart and chanted "We Want Landon" so insistently that, obviously tired but apparently willing, he appeared again with Mrs. Landon.

In the early morning hours of the 18-hour day—most momentous of his 48 years—came to an end for Landon.

Bronze Portrait Of Former Normal U. Prexy Unveiled

Bloomington, Ill., June 12.—(AP)—

A bronze bas relief portrait of the late John W. Cook, president of Illinois Normal University, was unveiled today at the 76th annual commencement. The old college library and gymnasium building, erected during the governorship of John P. Altgeld, was renamed for the late president.

The bronze tablet was the work of Dr. Cook's daughter, Mrs. Henry Gordon Gale, Chicago, whose husband is dean of the division of physical sciences at the University of Chicago.

Addresses were made by John Fleming of Michigan, a graduate of the class of 1886; W. R. Back, Bloomington, attorney; and President W. R. Fairchild of Illinois Normal.

Pertinent Points in G. O. P. Platform

Cleveland, June 12.—(AP)—Here are high spots of the Republican platform:

Money and Banking: We advocate a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards. x x x We oppose further devaluation of the dollar.

Labor: "We pledge ourselves to x x x support the adoption of state laws and interstate compacts to abolish sweatshops and child labor, and to protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages and working conditions. We believe that this can be done within the constitution as it now stands."

Relief: "To end confusion, partisanship, waste and incompetence, we pledge: The return of responsibility for relief administration to non-political local agencies familiar with community problems."

Agriculture: "We propose: To facilitate economical production and increased consumption on a basis of abundance instead of scarcity; x x x the payment of reasonable benefits upon the domestically consumed portion of crops (with an exportable surplus) in order to make the tariff more effective; x x x to furnish government assistance in disposing of surpluses in foreign trade."

Monopolies: "We favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws, as well as the civil laws, against monopolies and trusts and their officials, and we demand x x x additional legislation."

Government Finance: "We pledge ourselves to: Stop the folly of uncontrolled spending. Balance the budget—by cutting expenditures."

Foreign Affairs: "We pledge that America shall not become a member of the League of Nations nor of the World Court nor shall America take on any entangling alliances in foreign affairs. We shall promote x x x international arbitration."

Tariff: "We shall repeal the present reciprocal trade agreement law."

Constitution and Courts: "We pledge ourselves: To resist all attempts to impair the authority of the Supreme Court of the United States."

Re-employment: "We advocate: Abandonment of all New Deal policies that raise production costs, increase the cost of living, and thereby restrict buying, reduce volume and prevent re-employment."

Security: "Every American citizen over 65 should receive the supplementary payment necessary to provide a minimum income sufficient to protect him or her from want."

Regulation of Business: "We favor federal regulation of the interstate activities of public utilities."

Civil Service: "We pledge ourselves to the merit system, virtually destroyed by new deal spoils-men."

"Furthermore x x x we favor equal opportunity for our colored citizens."

"The acceptances of the nomination tendered by this convention carries with it, as a matter of private honor and public faith, an undertaking by each candidate to be true to the principles and program herein set forth."

A large city newspaper uses about 2000 acres of forest a year for its paper pulp.

New Presbyterian Church is Formed

Philadelphia, June 12.—(AP)—Suspended ministers of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., and their followers formed a new church organization here, naming it the Presbyterian Church of America.

The assembly of 175, including 45 ministers, declared itself the general assembly of the new church.

At the Thursday session delegates to the Presbyterian Constitutional Covenant Union approved the executive committee report recommending the abolition of the union and the formation of a new church organization, which its leaders said will continue the "true spiritual succession of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

LEECHES, BEFORE SUCKING THE BLOOD OF HUMANS, INJECT A SMALL AMOUNT OF HIRUDIN INTO THE WOUND TO PREVENT COAGULATION.

WILD LIFE was so plentiful in the United States in the early days that no one even dreamed that laws would be necessary to protect it. The year 1739 saw the first game warden in this country. Most of the colonies had adopted some form of game laws by the time of the Revolution, and the first federal game law was passed in 1776.

GOOD THOUGHTS.

The surest method of arriving at a knowledge of God's eternal purposes about us is to be found in the right use of the present moment. —F. W. Faber.

The Present, the Present is all thou hast
For thy sure possession;
Like the patriarch's angel hold it fast
Till it gives its blessing. —Whittier.

Mighty God, the First, the Last,
What are ages in Thy sight
But as yesterday when past,
Or a watch within the night?

All that being e'er shall know
On, still on, through farthest years,
All eternity can show,
Bright before Thee now appears. —William Gaskell.

Lord, thou has been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or even thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. . . . For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. —Psalms 90.

Let us remember God in all His ways, and in all our ways. . . . We must seek to wipe out the recollection of past fears, and we should be on guard against needlessly talking about the errors we are trying to banish from our thought and experience. "God requireth that which is past." The eternality of good requires mankind to awaken from its dream of a discordant past. —Christian Science Sentinel.

The GLAMOROUS ADVENTURE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GAIL EVERETT, ambitious to become a designer, comes to New York and—due to a stroke of luck—is hired by MADAME LIZETTE, proprietor of an exclusive shop. Madame proves temperamental and difficult to work for.

DEREK HARGREAVES, young artist, is interested in Gail and offers her friendly advice. Frequently she sees HER SEARLES, whose sister, ROSAMARY, was her roommate at school.

Meanwhile, in Arizona, MARK CHAPMAN, long a wanderer, returns to his old home in the hands of the Travers Mining Co. Mark suspects the deal is crooked.

He does not know the whereabouts of his niece, Gail, the rightful owner of the property. REX HALL, Madame Lizzie's son, is representing the Travers company.

Mark confides in his friend, old JED HOSKIEER, and writes a letter to GILES HARDING, New York lawyer.

Derek asks Gail to marry him and she agrees. A few days later a fashion writer praises Gail's work and in a rage of jealousy, Madame Lizzie discharges her.

Gail is discouraged over an unsuccessful search for work. Gail comes home, and finds a letter offering her $10,000 for the Arizona ranch.

DEREK, said Lucille in the soft tones she affected on occasion, "won't you let me give up this pose for a minute? Every muscle in my body feels cramped! I don't know if I can even move."

"I'm sorry!" Derek pushed aside his palette and brushes and held out a hand to her. "I didn't realize how long you'd been sitting there. Why didn't you speak before?"

"You looked so desperately serious I was afraid to speak."

"Well, come on down now."

"I don't believe I can rise."

"There," exclaimed Derek, lifting her in his arms and setting her down on the couch. "Stretch out for a bit and you'll feel all right." He turned again to his canvas.

"It's not very nice of you to turn your back on me like that," Lucille complained. "Why can't you come and speak to me? I believe you are a woman hater! But there—even if one girl has treated you badly I don't see why you should be so mean to every other girl you meet."

"What's that you say?" Derek moved quickly across the room.

"Well, everyone knows you were crazy about Gail Everett and I'm sure she led you on, but—"

"Stop," he said. "I don't want to hear any more of that."

"So you still worship her?" Lucille laughed softly, tantalizingly. Then, slipping her hand in his, she said, "Derek, I want to help you. I've known Gail for years, and she's not worth worrying about. She loves admiration, but when the time comes when she's ready to settle down every one knows she'll marry Dick Searles."

"What's that you say?" Derek moved quickly across the room.

"What's that you say?" Derek moved quickly across the room.

"Well, everyone knows you were crazy about Gail Everett and I'm sure she led you on, but—"

"You're sure about that—quite sure?" asked Derek. The night before he had seen Gail and Dick together. He written as he remembered how her sunny head had almost touched the other man's. Derek had called Madame Lizzie's shop that morning and learned that Gail was no longer connected with the firm. He'd called the club, too, only to be told that there was no one of that name there. He did not know that a new telephone operator was on duty—one with small sense of responsibility.

"Yes, Derek," Lucille went on softly. "I hate to say it, but I know it's true."

GILES HARDING'S secretary stepped quietly into her employer's office. "Here's a special delivery for you," she said, handing him a letter.

"From Arizona? I was just beginning to wonder if Mark Chapman had decided to come east instead of writing." Harding took up a paper knife and slit the envelope.

Quickly his eyes raced across the closely written pages. A moment later he was pressing a button, summoning his secretary.

"I wish you'd call up Madame Lizzie's shop," he told her, "and get Miss Everett on the line."

"Mark Chapman says he's heard that an offer is on the way to the girl," Harding explained. "It's the Travers crowd who want the place—he's given us authority to head them off, but we must get hold of Miss Everett at once."

"Oh!" exclaimed Miss West, rapidly dialing.

But when she got Madame Lizzie's shop she was curtly informed that no Miss Everett was associated with the concern.

"Not there now?" Harding jumped from his chair as he heard the news. "By George, she surely hasn't accepted and gone west to close the deal! Get Miss Cranston's letter from the file. I think I wrote Gail Everett's address on it. Seems to me she was staying at some club."

"Well, you just caught me in time," Gail said after the lawyer had talked for half an hour. "I was going to write tonight and tell this man to send me the money. But I can't understand this. You say the Travers company wants the property, but they haven't made an offer. It is some other man who wants it. I'll get the letter and show it to you."

Gail hastened to her room. She had an uncle; she was no longer all alone in the world! And the Rancho Angelo which had been her mother's home was hers.

Mount Morris

By FILLINE YOE
Mt. Morris—As a last gesture to their fleeting school days, the Juniors helped the Seniors fly kites, as a theme for their annual banquet held at the Kable Inn last Friday evening.

Dale Henricks, president of the Junior class, presided as toastmaster and compared kite flying weather to the conditions under which each one must perform his tasks, while Stanley James, Senior president, responded by outlining education and effort as the essentials for the field of life's endeavor. Jane Devine, added color to the occasion with her vocal solo, "How Sweet Remembered Hours" from the opera Chonilla.

To withstand the batterings that one is to receive in the storm of life, a sound framework of education and character must be built, was the essence of Jeanne Duncan's contribution. No doubt to restrict their soaring to too dizzy heights, Professor I. R. Hendrickson, held on to the strings, a portion of which he used in tying up a pretty package of advice for the departing Seniors. As erratically as the tail may whip about in the breeze, never-the-less it adds balance to the flight of the kite, so did Ruth Mann's reading balance the evening's program.

Phyllis Hoover completed the evening's speaking by stating that ambition and preparation determines the height to which one soars and the steadiness of the flight, rather than one's size. Following a solo, "Twilight on the trail", from the motion picture, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine", sung by Clarence Tracy, the pupils and faculty sang the alma mater.

For these upper high school students the banquet marks an event long to be remembered. The girls in their gay swishing evening frocks added color and harmony to the table decorations of delphinium blue and silver, glimmering in the candlelight.

The wedding of Miss Louise Donaldson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Donaldson, and Cecil Satterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Satterfield of Tennessee, took place at the residence of the bride's parents at their country home west of Polo, Wednesday, Dr. C. H. Hightower, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church of Mount Morris, read the single ring ceremony at four o'clock, in the presence of a small group of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride, wore a white floor length gown of satin and lace and a fingertip veil. She carried an arm bouquet of delphinium and fleur de lis. Her bridesmaid, Miss Ramona Williams of Dixon was attired in a floor length gown of orchid crepe and wore a large white picture hat. Her bouquets was of pink roses. Ralph Satterfield, brother of the groom, was best man.

The living room of the Donaldson home had been transformed into a miniature garden with a white picket fence behind which the wedding party were grouped.

A wedding luncheon was served to the guests at tables which were decorated with shaded lavender and white streamers and low bowls of garden flowers.

After the ceremony the young couple left for a wedding trip, to be gone until Sunday, after which they will make their home at the Stonebraker place two miles north of Mount Morris.

Mr. Satterfield is employed in Kable Brothers' company and has resided in Mount Morris for the past year.

Music and tea made a pleasant combination for the mothers and friends of the pupils of Mrs. Gerald Huffman when she presented them in a piano recital on Wednesday afternoon at the band hall.

About forty people members and friends of the front office staff and accounting department of Kable's were guests of the Howard Bronsons Thursday evening. The diversions were many and varied. However, they all ganged together for the supper, served around the fireplace in the early evening. Croquet, target shooting and other outdoor games were played on the lawn by some, while others engaged in a more quiet sport—bridge indoors. Too, there were those who turned on the radio to dance on the driveway. The guests departed at a late hour, thanking the Bronsons for another delightful office party.

Mrs. Ira R. Hendrickson used her wedding linen and bowls of white roses to decorate the tables, when she and the professor entertained the 35 members of this year's graduating class at breakfast Sunday morning. Katherine Graff, Muriel Rowe and Doris Hoover assisted Mrs. Hendrickson with the serving.

Mrs. Walter Leopold entertained Wednesday evening in honor of her house guest, Mrs. Walter Seikerman from near Lena. The hostess took her guests to the Pines where they enjoyed a picnic supper she had prepared for them. The late evening was spent playing bridge at the Leopold home. The Mmes. Ralph Lizer, Mark Crawford, Willard Van Stone, Earl Avey, Axel Johnston and Harvey Wright were the ladies who participated in this nice party.

The members of the Mount Morris Woman's club are invited to attend the Ogle county Woman's

WHOOPIING A WELCOME TO HERBERT HOOVER

A tumultuous demonstration was given Herbert Clark Hoover, only living former president, when he made his appearance on the speaker's stand to address the Republican national convention in Cleveland's Public Hall. Here are shown delegates from several states massed on the floor beneath their state designations and the American flag, as they thundered a welcome to the titular head of the party.

AS HOOVER RESPONDED TO CONVENTION OVATION

Addressing the Republican national convention in Cleveland as titular head of the party, Herbert Clark Hoover was given a tremendous ovation when he appeared on the speaker's stand as shown here, with Bertrand Snell, permanent chairman. For nearly 20 minutes, the great throng in Public Hall roared its applause. Then Hoover, swinging into his address warned his party against compromise and scathingly arraigned policies of the New Deal.

club picnic at Memorial park in Rochelle, Tuesday, June 16. The ladies are asked to take their own service, sandwiches and a dish to pass.

The high school juniors enjoyed a wiener roast and ball game at the Pines on Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Henricks accompanied them on the picnic.

The members of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church met for their regular session on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. D. G. Carpenter's committee were hostesses.

On Wednesday, Mrs. C. L. Smith very pleasantly entertained Mrs. L. C. Smith, Mrs. Theodore Colehour, Mrs. Troy Creston and Miss Mildred Hurley of Mt. Carroll. Mrs. Smith took her guests to the Rock River Country club for luncheon, after which the ladies returned to Mount Morris to play bridge.

Miss Julia Envidson of Chicago, who was a bridesmaid at the wedding of her sister, Mrs. Harry Herrmann, last Saturday afternoon, returned to Mount Morris with the large party who attended the wedding from here. She left for her home on Monday.

Mrs. Maurice Quinlan was hostess to a party of ladies at her home on Seminary avenue, last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Gerald Sanderson and Mrs. Charles Cox were prize winners. Other guests were the Mmes. Lester Nunn, I. R. Hendrickson, Arthur Harper, Frank Horton and Miss Beatrice Horton.

Mrs. Elmer Baker charmingly entertained the members of the Fortnightly club on Tuesday. During their games of "42" the ladies made plans to have a picnic in two weeks to which the husbands will be invited.

The Missionary society of the Lutheran church met in the parsonage on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Paul Barnhizer was hostess to a few friends on Thursday evening. Her guests were the Mmes.

Bert Tilden, Ralph Lizer, Charles Towns, Sr., Charles Towns, Jr., Jack Towns, Fred Michael, Jr., and Ronald Wallace.

Last Friday evening Miss Gladys Rodeffer entertained a small group of friends at dinner in honor of Miss Pauline Schullie, a June bride-to-be. Table decorations were in blue and yellow, with a miniature bride and groom under an arch of yellow roses, which formed the center piece. After presenting gifts to the honoree, the remainder of the evening was spent around the card tables. The Mmes. Myrtle Allen, Veida Stengel, Irma Ambruster and Cleo Wendie were the other guests at the dinner.

Mrs. Ernest Boydston was hostess to the Entre Nous bridge club on Wednesday evening at her Lincoln street home.

The Willing Workers Sunday school class of the Methodist church will be entertained at the parsonage next Wednesday evening at half past seven o'clock. Mrs. Lydia Bennett and Mrs. Thomas King will be the hostesses.

Now that the cows are out in pasture, there ought to be plenty of rich cream to combine with the fresh strawberries from your patch (or your neighbor's), to make a dish that will be both delicious and in season. Unconditionally guaranteed by Mrs. Gerald Sanderson, even if other fresh fruits might be used.

Fresh Strawberry Cream.
1 pint of strawberries, put through a sieve. Add to this 1 cup sugar and let stand for a few minutes.

Separate 2 eggs. Add the beaten yolks to the strawberries and sugar mixture.
Fold in egg whites beaten stiff. Add 1 cup coffee cream, whipped. 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 scant teaspoon vanilla.

Put this into the refrigerator tray and set one hour below the highest freezing point. After it has frozen for two or three hours, turn down the temperature a few points. This makes a delightful dessert if it is not frozen too stiff.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sawyer and daughters, Frances and Peggy, left Thursday noon for Ohio, where they will visit relatives in Canton and other parts of the state. They will return next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Justin Kable and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyers are on a fishing trip in Canada. They will return in about ten days.

L. W. Anderson of Dixon was a dinner guest in the Gerald Hough home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hendrickson and son Danny of Waukegan, Wisconsin, are expected in Mount Morris tomorrow to remain until the opening of the summer session at the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Paul Yoe spent the last week-end in the home of her parents in Toulon, Illinois.

A large delegation from Mount Morris is planning to attend the annual Thirteenth district convention of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary to be held all day in Morrison Saturday. The business sessions will take place in the morning and in the evening there will be parades for which prizes will be awarded. Those from here who will probably be in attendance are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bronson, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Knodel, Mr. and Mrs. Max Barnhizer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnhizer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edson, and the Mmes. C. J. Price, Harvey Miller, Mary Devine and Ernest Boydston.

CALIFORNIANS LEAD CHEERING FOR HOOVER

Beneath their mammoth banner, delegates from Herbert Clark Hoover's home state of California, as shown here, led in the ovation given the former president when he appeared on the speaker's stand to launch his blast against the New Deal at the G. O. P. national convention. Surrounding the Golden State delegation here are groups from other states who joined uproariously in the 20-minute outburst of applause.

Finances of All Political Organizations Reported

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The Democratic national committee has reported that it had a cash balance of $299,000 on May 31.

It said it took in $456,544 and paid out $384,775 during the three-month period ending on that date. Among the receipts listed were $81,000 in contributions, $337,000 from convention activities, $22,000 from Jackson Day dinners and $6,400 from Jefferson Day activities.

The report showed unpaid obligations of $174,765 as of May 31. Reporting its debts included $77,376 of borrowed money, the committee said $36,876 of this was owed to Joseph P. Kennedy of New York, former member of the securities commission.

The largest contribution reported was $10,000 from Percy S. Straus of New York, the next largest $5,000 from Virginia Chase Weddell of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

In another report to the clerk of the house of representatives today, the American Liberty League reported receipts of $124,247 and expenditures of $156,901 in the three-month period.

The National Union for Social Justice, headed by Father Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, listed receipts of $190,747, including a $22,500 loan from the League of the Little Flower, and disbursements of $185,344 for the same quarter.

Finland to Again Meet Honor Debts

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Finland notified the United States today that it would meet its regular semi-annual war debt installment of $164,315.50 on June 15.

The little Baltic republic is the only war debtor nation that has not defaulted on obligations to this country.

Great Britain and Italy already notified this government they would continue in default after June 15, as they have been for the last two years, and none of the other 13 debtor nations is generally expected to do otherwise.
